"Flowery Fleurie loves the sun, so chill this Victoria plum and red summer berry-stashed 2013 down to a cool, not cold, level and pop it in the picnic basket : summer's here" The Times - Jane MaxQuitty - 6 Juin 2015

"Chanson is located in Beaune, Côte-d'Or. She has two of her Beaujolais wines which are proposed with their status as a wine merchant-rated one star: Morgon and Fleurie 2011. Both wines are welcomed by their strong typicality: toasted and vanilla nose, generous mouth, full and woody for this Morgon; more floral and fruitier bouquet, spicy and delicious on the palate for this Fleurie. Both are still young and need three or four years of aging." Le guide Hachette des vins - 2014

"Very frank fruit, smooth richness, lively, directness, nice bright length. Truly well made." Score : 15.5/20 Le guide Bettane & Desseauve des vins de France - 2014

"Very pure fruit. Supple and direct it displays energy and richness. A very well-made wine" Score : 15.5 Le Guide Bettane et Dessauve des Vins de France _- Edition 2014

"This Fleurie displays floral and fruity aromas. It is spicy and delicious." Score : * Le Guide Hachette des Vin _ Selection 2014

"This is the most important cru in the Beaujolais for Chanson and they have strong connections there. Violet aroma very perfumed. Very juicy with sweet red plum fruit. Soft and appetising with a little crisp acidity onto the finish. An easy going wine and inviting wine. From 2013/2014." Score: 14 Sarah Marsh--Dec. 2012

FLEURIE

2009 Vintage

“Dark ruby colour. Very pure nose with elegant fruity aromas and a hint of tobacco. On the palate it displays elegance and smoothness with a very fine acidity and rounded tannins. Outstanding persistence. Silky and elegant. “ Score: 16

“A very ripe nose of black berry fruit that displays nuances of pepper and warm earth that are in keeping with the equally ripe, concentrated, mouth coating and impressively long finish. This is really quite good and worth a look. “

“Fleurie, a posh sub-region of Beaujolais, is made of Gamay, the grape banned by neighbouring Burgundy since the 14th century for being “of very great and horrible harshness”. Which hardly describes this soft-centred wine with its summer pudding nose and spicy, liquorice edge – just right for quiche Lorraine. “ Tom Bruce-Gardyne/ The Glasgow Herald/ August 2009

“ I would much rather drink this Fleurie 2007 from further south for its clear cherry flavours and satin soft, elegant tannins. This is versatile enough to be chilled to go with the last sunshine of summer or served at room temperature with pink duck and guinea fowl. “Yorkshire Post \(South/Sheffield {Magazine} Septembre 2009

2005 Vintage

“A really nice elegant fruity Beaujolais but with a less precise finish than that of the Morgon. “Bettane & Desseauve TAST PRO - November 2006
