“ Reduction overshadows the underlying fruit that seems quite ripe. Otherwise the supple, round and almost surprisingly accessible flavors exude a fine bead of minerality on the slightly warm if lengthy finish. This is certainly perfectly good but it's not nearly at the same level as the Clos des Fèves. (89-92)/2025+” - Burghound- April 2017

“ Cask sample. Fresher than Les Vaucrains but still pretty ripe on the nose. On the palate, surprisingly delicate for the appellation, refined and dark in texture and fresh on the finish but not really a charmer or a standout. 16/20” - Julia Harding - jancisrobinson.com
